No matter who tells me what about Hitler, I will always believe that he is a bad person. I do not agree with what he has done and if I was able to meet him in person I would yell "STUPID" in his face. I agree that the Jews gave Hitler a miserable childhood, but it is not good to blame them for the mistakes of his own. When he rose to become a dictator, I have no idea how he came to the conclusion of genocide, but his decision will never be able to be fixed, and will remain in the page of history forever, as an evil murder.

What I think is that half way through, Hitler himself realized that he was doing the wrong thing, deep down. But he knew that it was too late for that so he locked up his self-doubt and continued the genocide. He wanted to remain Germany's idol. So before his people could execute him and humiliate him in front of the whole world, he killed himself, to remain an idol for Germany.

Student A

Dear Hitler,

You have no idea what pain you have caused my family and me. As a young girl of thirteen, I feel that I should be living my life and trying new things. Instead I am locked up in a room smaller than your bedroom. You said that you were going to fix all of Germany's problems. Instead you have caused 11 million deaths. And now America is going to come and help us all out. And guess what... they are going to kill you. Your whole plan has backfired. Europe is all messed up and you don't know... no you can't even understand how many lives were lost on account of you. Young, brilliant minds like mine and my sister's can't even be used. ~~Who knows?~~ ~~One of the 11 million people you killed could've found the cure for polio and smallpox.~~ You need to end these horrible death camps. When the ^{war} ~~world~~ is over, do you want "your" people ~~to~~ ^{to blame you for their families & friends' deaths} ~~to~~ ~~knowing that 11 million ~~is~~ skeletons are under their feet?~~ You're a bad leader, you are an unfair leader, you're a crazy leader, you're mental, and I almost feel bad for you because you need some help. You have taken away all of my rights, not just as a little girl, but as a human. That's right Hitler, us Jews are humans too.

I believe that Hitler was a bad person. His actions against Jews was horrific. His abuse of power was horrible because of what he did. Hitler from the beginning of his life was a bad student. Since he did not get into the art school his anger rose. This led him to terror and destruction.

Hitler believed that the Jews caused all the bad things that happened to him. This caused him to kill around 6 million Jews. Hitler killed himself because he didn't like failure. This left Germany in joy. Everything was now good and peace had returned.

Dear Hitler,

I have had to stay in hiding for 2 years because of you. You have caused me pain and sadness. You have taken away my right to see my friends and my extended family. I am limited to only my place of hiding. You are a horrible person and I dis like you.

Sincerely, Anne

I feel a bit partial to both sides of the argument. I'm in agreement with him when he wanted to help his country, and I see that through his eyes Jews were the center of all that is wrong. But to not only exclude them from basic Citizen's rights, but to then kill them off is unexcusable. I'll start with being pro-Hitler. The video made him out to be a good man; shaking people's hands, leading non-violent gatherings, greeting fellow Germans. Judging by the article, he seemed to want to help the nation after the first World War devastated his beloved country. And so with that, he rose to power.

Now it's time to view his darker times. He rose to power with intents to save his country, but he began to abuse his status. Beginning with the laws, he excluded Jews from almost every thing. Then, to make matters worse, he began killing Jews. If he hadn't let his deep rooted hatred drive him to the genocide of Jews, he would've been an ideal leader. So I cannot say that I am for or against Hitler. He had his ups and downs, like any leader in history.

Dear Hitler,

I have written this letter to express my deepest frustration towards you. Because of you and your terrible Nazi party, me and my family have had to give up our civilian lives and put ourselves into hiding for the past two years. These years are filled with constant boredom and fear. Unlike other citizens, we have no rights, no say so in government. My people can no longer show ourselves in public, lest your Gestapo come and take us to those horrid death camps.
